Truck Load Matching Services

PROPOSAL

Our Concept

We are pleased to introduce ourselves as the first service provider of load board in India by the name loadjunction.com, a member of SUAIN Logistics Pvt. Ltd. to the logistic industry.

Let me give you a brief idea about what a load matching is. Load Matching is an internet based technology successfully adopted by transportation industry in America & Canada for more than 15 years. Indian transport sector is now ready to adopt such technology which would benefit Transporters, Truck owners, brokers, intermediaries and Corporate to perform their day to day transactions. The benefit of using Load Junction service is that the chances of getting backhauls increases, decreases deadhead miles, help dispatchers or even owner operators at truck stops to find pickups. Now let us understand how Load Junction is considered as useful technology for transport industries. Every transporter & broker would require loads and vehicles on daily basis. Similarly, a vehicle owner would require loads on daily basis. A company would require vehicles to move loads on daily basis. Presently, these transactions in India do take place through phone calls, networks and brokers. The idea of Load Junction is to take all these information about loads, trucks, type of trucks, routes, rates etc. on internet, so that every demand and supply appearing in the Industry on all India basis are matched. The truck owners can search and find loads for backhauls or to fill their idle trucks. It also allows posting of available trucks that can be searched by transporters or brokers who have loads ready to move.

LoadJunction is making the business of finding truck loads easier and more efficient. What used to take up a big chunk of time now is now a streamlined process which means you have more time to haul more truck loads or take a longer trip for more money. Moving truck loads today is now an effortless, seamless process. Fast information about waiting truck loads and the companies posting the loads is available right at your fingertips. And these entire things are possible with the help of LoadJunction.com.
